Compliant with global metadata: no	Global Metadata

2. Definition of time series
The time series shows the total number of children and juveniles who are victims of human trafficking, or who are exploited in other ways.

3. Comparison with global metadata (as of 03/2019)
The time series summarizes the data of the Police Crime Statistics regarding the criminal offence of trafficking in young human beings, as well as exploitation of their labour in various ways. For more details, please see section 4 Data description.
The age categories of the time series differ from those in the global metadata.

4. Data description
The data are taken from the Police Crime Statistics by the Federal Criminal Police Office (Bundeskriminalamt, BKA). The PCS covers known criminal offences, victims and suspects. It includes attempts as well as completed offences for every year. Since the data are summarising only cases which were brought to the attention of the police, our numbers underestimate the real situation.
If a person is a victim of more than one crime or repeatedly victim of the same crime, it is counted multiple times.
From 2010 to 2016 the time series included the data of the Police Crime Statistics regarding the criminal offence of trafficking in young human beings, and in children especially. The cases of trafficking in human beings were done with the intent of exploitation in labour and of sexual exploitation.
The Police Crime Statistics restructured their classification in 2017 which resulted in new categories fitting the descriptiom of the SDG indicator 8.7.1. From 2017 on the time series also includes
- cases of forced labour,
- inducement to engage in or continue to engage in prostitution or to engage in exploitative sexual activities,
- exploitation of labour without being victim of trafficking in human beings, and
- exploitation on the basis of deprivation of liberty.
